

Category: 1a Unique
Name: Nonconformist Spruce
Location: Prince Albert
Species: Spruce -?

normal spruce

History/Description:

This poor little tree, growing at the 10th Ave and 3rd Street East, Prince Albert, has obviously had a struggle in growing. It is a really unusual shape. Do you have any theories as to how it became like this?

I feel this tree should be included because it will allow people to question how it became as we see it today. Is it a nonconformist or a rebel tree?

Height: Approximately 3 metres

Nominated By: Bernadette Slager

Comments or additional information can be sent to: info@whitebirch.ca